FUNCTIONAL EXPERTISE DEMONSTRATED

SOUTHERN AUTO SUPPLY

October 2021 - Present

A small town auto parts store with around ten employees.

Sales Associate

A non-technical job to pay the bills while I search for an entry-level position in development.

- Excellent Communication: In order to sell the correct products we must be able to communicate effectively with the customer to determine their needs.
- Strong Attention to Detail: Beyond communication skills, a sales associate at a parts store must recognize the importance of key differences between parts and vehicles.
- Experienced Web Developer: Wrote a small app for counting my drawer at the end of day as well as a random lunch picker to help us pick where we go for lunch everyday.

RIX RACING

May 2019 – May 2020

An automotive performance shop with only a handful of employees.

Shipping & Logistics Manager

A mix of pulling parts from vehicles, listing them to sell, and shipping them after they sold.

- eCommerce Manager: Gain experience using Shopify as a manager for shipping.
- Google Ads & Analytics: Configure store to begin showing ads on Google Shopping.
- Strong Attention to Detail: Many parts that were sold did not have any label or inventory information. It was important to pay attention to details and take accurate notes to accurately describe items online.

HIGH MOUNTAIN SPORTS

October 2011 – September 2019

A small sporting goods retail store with around twenty employees.

eCommerce Store Manager

Essentially created this position while working as a sales associate during a slow period.

- Google Ads & Analytics: Obtain certifications and then analyze ad spend, finally dispatched an effective campaign to reduce costs while increasing conversion rates.
- Adobe Creative Cloud: Create marketing campaigns for email, print, social media, and on the website using the Adobe Creative Cloud.
- eCommerce Manager: This experience requires me to wear multiple hats. A normal day consists of picking orders to be shipped processing those orders, but also handling tasks as mentioned above and a whole lot more including SQL.
